THE SUBSTITUTE

By WILL N. HARBEN

Author of "ABNER DANIEL"

A story of Northern Georgia—of George Buckley, who loves a woman far above him socially. Though of humble birth, he has a natively fine character. He is adopted by an old man who desires to atone for a past sin by so educating and training Buckley that he may become his moral substitute in the eyes of Providence. Hence the name. Finally, interest centres in a love affair that has a noteworthy effect on the young man's character, and the end is a happy one. This story is full of the wit, philosophy, and quaint humor that made the author well known through "Abner Daniel."

MERIT

By MARY HOLLAND KINKAID

A love story placed in a religious community where love and marriage are tacitly discouraged. Into this community comes Stephen, a man of the world. He falls in love with Walda Kellar, who has been singled out as the coming prophetess of the community. Finally, after much difficulty in meeting her, he declares himself, and she struggles between her religious belief and the instinct of her heart. The love story is one of great beauty, and in some ways suggests Hawthorne's romances.

The SOUTHERNERS

By CYRUS TOWNSEND BRADY

THIS forceful and romantic novel is, without question, the strongest, completest and best story of Mr. Brady's career. It has been years in thoughtful preparation. Its setting results from careful research, topographical as well as historical and biographical. Its romance is founded on the frank emotional diary kept by an Alabama girl during the Civil War.

THE SCENE IS MOSTLY IN MOBILE AND COVERS FARRAGUT'S FAMOUS OPERATIONS. THE CHARACTER OF FARRAGUT, UNDER WHOM THE HERO SERVED, IS CLEAN-CUT AND TRUE. THE STORY IS RICH IN COLOR AND FEELING.

Illustrated in color by GEORGE WRIGHT, * * $1.50.

NOTES IN SEASON.

THE BOBBS-MERRILL COMPANY have secured the latest book by Anna Katherine Green, (Mrs. Rohlf,) which they will issue on March 25 under the title "The Filigree Ball." This is the first detective story on the list of Bobbs-Merrill Company, and it is said the author of "The Leavenworth Case" has written it with all her old cunning and command of mystery.

DOUBLEDAY, PAGE & CO. will publish next week a new book of New England ghost stories, by Mary E. Wilkins, entitled "The Wind in the Rose-Bush," with illustrations by Peter Newell; also, "House Building and Furnishing," which is a combined new edition of "Model Houses for Little Money," by William L. Price, and "Inside of 100 Houses," by W. M. Johnson, two little books that met with much success when first published.

MCCLURE, PHILLIPS & CO. will publish about the last week in March a new novel under the title of "Conjuror's House," by Stewart Edward White, author of "The Blazed Trail." In his new book Mr. White is not only a poet of the forests, as in his past successes, but also a teller of a love tale. It is the story of a young free trader who, trespassing on the land of the Hudson Bay Company, being caught, and being sentenced to death, braves the power of the company and wins the love of the fair Virginia, daughter of the company's factor and commander of the "Conjuror's House" post. As a background is the delightful life of the voyagers.

LITTLE, BROWN & CO. announce a new popular edition of "Truth Dexter," by Sidney McCall, to be ready early in April. This edition will contain for the first time a frontispiece. Fifty thousand copies of the regular edition of "Truth Dexter" have been already sold. They will publish this spring a romance of Mexico in the times of Montezuma, entitled "The Spoils of the Empire," by Francis Newton Thorpe, a well-known lawyer, lecturer and writer on historical subjects, whose "Constitutional History of the United States" is a recognized authority; "Love Thrives in War," a romance of the War of 1812, by Mary Catherine Crowley, author of "A Daughter of New France," etc.; also, a new revised and cheaper edition of "Nuttall's Birds," in one volume, brought down to date by Montagu Chamberlain, with 172 engraved figures, including drawings especially made for the work by Ernest E. Thompson and twenty colored plates.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS publish to-day "The Principles of Money," by J. Laurence Laughlin, Professor of Political Economy in the University of Chicago; "The Southerners," by Cyrus Townsend Brady, illustrated in colors by George Wright, with vignettes by Louis D. Arata; "Development of Muslim Theology, Jurisprudence and Constitutional Theory," by Duncan B. MacDonald, Professor in Hartford Theological Seminary; and "Horses Nine: Stories of Harness and Saddle," by Sewell Ford, illustrated by Frederick Dorr Steele and L. Maynard Dixon. They have in preparation a popular, a complete and a truly constructive work entitled "Old Testament Criticism and the Christian Church," by Professor John E. McFayden, of Knox College, Toronto, author of "The Messages of the Prophetic and Priestly Historians." In a conservative manner the author presents the "Higher Criticism" controversy in a nutshell for lay as well as clerical readers.

"The knyght of the burning pestle," a play attributed to Beaumont and Fletcher, was recently produced by the English Club of the Stanford University. The present little "booke of the play" was printed to throw some light upon the drama itself and the period of the play. It contains articles "on seeing an Elizabethan play" which discuss and describes the theatre, "The knyght of the burning pestle," and the songs and music it embraces; many of the songs with music being given. There is also a reprint of a chapter from "The grill's horn-book" on how a gallant behaves himself in a play-house. There are also illustrations of the Swan Theatre, etc.

THE DIFFICULTIES OF THE REFORM.

THE following is a fair sample of several complaints that have come to our notice within a month from booksellers regarding certain measures recently adopted by the American Publishers' Association:

I desire to call your attention to two recent pieces of legislation by the American Publishers' Association. One the removal of the postage regulation on books, thus allowing any bookseller to compete for business in any part of the U. S.; the other the regulation of jobbing discounts. The effect of both these measures is once more to centralize the trade in the hands of the large dealers, and to restore as far as possible the conditions previous to the formation of the Association: so far as the country dealer is concerned. Have the publishers given us up as a hopeless case?

The complainants are clearly unaware of the difficulties that beset the directors of the affairs of the American Publishers' Association in strengthening their position and perfecting their organization. In taking any steps to protect the trade through any of its actions, the American Publishers' Association is obliged to weigh and consider every point, legal and economic, that may have bearing on such action. What may appear as a compromise, or a backward step, to the uninformed observer, upon closer examination, and in the light of full knowledge of the reasons that made the measure necessary, is likely to prove to be simply another step in the direction of progress, and is made to strengthen the position of the trade against attacks from the enemy. In such a light the repeal of the rule requiring that the postage be added to the price of a book published by the members of the American Publishers' Association must be regarded. This step was not taken without due consideration of the best interests of the trade; and the repeal was voted only after the legal adviser of the Association—an eminent corporation lawyer—had declared that the rule was positively untenable, and that its retention was liable to involve the Association in litigation which would end in the inevitable defeat of the Association.

It was found, on going into the matter thoroughly, that it was impossible to frame a rule that would bind every dealer in books who undertook to deliver books to his customers free of charge, to demand the cost of transportation. Every bookseller, as every other merchant in these days, will undertake to deliver books without charge to such of his customers as may live within reach. This reach may be short; or, as in the case of large department stores, it may extend in a radius of forty or fifty miles. It would be clearly impossible to dictate to a large buyer how far his free delivery of books shall extend. The houses whose free-delivery reach was not so long as that of their more fortunate competitors, as soon as they became aware of this fact, were ready to point out to the publishers that it was an unfair discrimination to permit one class of booksellers to make deliveries by wagon or rail and to restrain others from using the mails as distributing agents. To adhere to such a course was to provoke an attack on the Association, in which the courts would be asked to decide whether such a discrimination against the United States mail was legal. There was therefore but one thing to do, much as the necessity for doing it was regretted by a number of the publishers, and that was to rescind the rule. A way may be found in the future to accomplish what the Association hoped to accomplish in adopting the postage rule; but until such a way is discovered the booktrade must make the best of the condition that confronts it in this direction. As it is, the publishers themselves still charge postage on their books, so that they are doing whatever they can do legally to aid the bookseller.

Referring to the matter of regulating jobbing discounts, all we can say is that we cannot see why country dealers, any more than their urban brethren, should suffer from a move in the direction towards employing legitimate methods of selling books to the trade by both jobbers and publishers, which will bring with it certainty to the retail dealer that he is buying his supply at the lowest market price, and that there is no danger that his competitors may be tempted to give away part of their margins. The new jobbing rule is not calculated in practice to work any hardship to the bookseller. The rule, logically carried out, was meant only to provide a small part of the protection to the jobber that has been so freely granted by the other rules of the Association to the general bookseller. Should this prove a fallacy, the rules of the Association are not immutable. They are subject to as many changes in the future, as they have already been subjected to in its short career, when the need for a change becomes apparent or imperative.

THE AMENDED PLAN OF THE AMERICAN PUBLISHERS' ASSOCIATION.

THE following plan to correct evils connected with the cutting of prices on copyrighted books was adopted at a meeting of the American Publishers' Association, held February 13, 1901. The amendments referring to fiction were adopted at meetings held January 8, 1902, and May 27, 1902:

1. That the members of the American Publishers' Association agree that all copyrighted books first issued by them after May 1, 1901, shall be published at net prices, which it is recommended shall be reduced from the prices at which similar books have been issued heretofore: Provided, however, that there shall be exempt from this agreement all school books, such works of fiction, (not juveniles,) and new editions as the individual publisher may desire, books published by subscription and not through the trade, and such other books as are not sold through the trade.

2. It is recommended that the retail price of a net book, marked net, be printed on a paper wrapper covering the book.

3. That the members of the Association agree that such net copyrighted books and all others of their books shall be sold by them to those booksellers only who will maintain the retail price of such net copyrighted books for one year, and to those booksellers and jobbers only who will sell their books further to no one known to them to cut such net prices or whose name has been given to them by the Association as one who cuts such prices or who fails to abide by such fair and reasonable rules and regulations as may be established by local associations as hereinafter provided.

A dealer or bookseller may be defined as one who makes it a regular part of his business to sell books and carries stock of them for public sale.

4. That the members of the Association agree that on all copyrighted works of fiction, (not net,) published by them after February 1, 1902, the greatest discount allowed at retail for one year after publication shall be 28 per cent.; and all the rules for the protection of net books shall apply to the protection of fiction to this extent.

The conditions governing the sale of fiction are such that the Association does not attempt to fix a uniform price at which works of fiction (not net) shall be sold, but only to name a maximum discount which, however, it is hoped will rarely be given.

When a work of fiction published under this rule is sent postpaid the price to the purchaser shall be not less than the minimum price, plus the postage.

5. The only exceptions to the foregoing rules shall be in the case of libraries, which may be allowed a discount of not more than 10 per cent. on net books and 33 1-3 per cent. on fiction.

Libraries entitled to these discounts may be defined as those libraries to which access is either free or by annual subscription. Book clubs are not to be entitled to discount on net books, nor to any special discount on fiction.

6. That the Association suggests a discount on net copyrighted books of 25 per cent. to dealers as a general discount, leaving the question of discount, however, entirely to the individual publisher.

7. That after the expiration of a year from the publication of any copyrighted book issued under these regulations dealers shall not be held to the above restrictions and may sell such book at a cut price; but if on learning of such action the publisher shall desire to buy back at purchase price the copies then remaining in the dealers' hands they must be so resold to him on demand.

8. That when the publisher sells at retail a net book published under the rules it shall be at the retail price, and he shall add the cost of postage or expressage on all books sent out of the city in which the publisher does business.

9. That for the purpose of carrying out the above plan the directors of the Association be authorized to establish an office and engage a suitable person as manager, and endeavor to secure from all dealers in books assent to the above conditions of sale. Under the direction of the Board the Manager shall investigate all cases of cutting reported, and when directed shall send out notices to the Association, jobbers, and the trade of any persons violating the above provisions.

10. That it shall be the duty of all members of the Association to report immediately to the said office all cases of the cutting of prices which may come to their knowledge.

11. That the Association through its agents and members aid in the formation of booksellers' associations in the important centres and cities in the United States, the object of which associations shall be to assist the Publishers' Association in maintaining prices on net books as aforesaid, and to establish such lawful rules and regulations respecting the conduct of business in their locality as will tend to secure fair, honorable and uniform methods of business in each important centre or section of the country. That the Association pledge itself to support such local associations by every means in its power in maintaining such lawful rules and regulations as may in this way be agreed to.

ANOTHER TRADE OPINION ON THE DUTY ON BOOKS.

THOMAS Y. CROWELL & CO.

No doubt we all agree that the Law of Penalties on (assumed) undervaluation of imported sheets and books, as now administered by the Custom House authorities, is very objectionable, and that the methods in practice of assessing penalties without redress, should be discontinued. But it is quite another matter to abolish the tariff on books simply to do away with the evil referred to.

Among some of the objections to this form of remedy I would point out that books can be made much cheaper in England than in this country.

For example, take the matter of binding, which is the largest item in the cost of manufacturing books. The minimum wage to journeymen in this country is not less than $18 a week, while in England $12 is the average just two-thirds of the cost here.

The best grades of cloth or muslin used for the covers pay a duty of 30 to 40 per cent. Much of this cloth is now made in this country; but, as is well known, the largest factory is controlled by an English manufacturer, who thus practically controls the price here.

The gold leaf used on the covers and edges is also subject to a tariff of $1.75 per pack of 500 sheets.

On leather there is also a duty of 20 per cent. In regard to type, paper, ink, etc., and press work, suffice it to say that the same principle applies to a greater or less extent.

I am confident that I can establish the point clearly that there are very good reasons why the present tariff on books should be retained.

The fact that skilled labor is paid 50 per cent., (or even 25 per cent.), more than for the same work in England—that much of the cloth used costs the binder 30 to 40 per cent. more than his English competitor, his leather from 20 to 25 per cent. more, his gold leaf from $2 to $3 per pack more, is sufficient to give the English manufacturer such an advantage that even with 25 per cent. tariff against him he is able to send over an increasing number of books to be disposed of in this market.

Any proposition to remove the tariff on books should also carry with it the removal of duties on all the materials that enter into the manufacture of books.

The probability of any tariff modification would seem to be doubtful when one considers the army of allied trades engaged in this industry, such as compositors, electro-typers, printers, binders, manufacturers of book cloth, leather manufacturers' gold beaters, paper makers, and others.

All the labor organizations throughout the country would enter a vigorous protest, to say nothing of the majority of strictly American publishers, and insist that the present tariff on books and the materials pertaining to their manufacture be retained.

I think that they would not only have a fair argument, but a most convincing one if the subject should be brought before Congress for consideration.

FOR A PRINTER'S PENSION.

MR. W. HUGH SPOTTISWOODE, who is at present in this country assisting in the perfecting of the consolidation of the interests of the London Bible Warehouse, E. & J. B. Young & Co. and Thomas Nelson & Sons, has published the following letter that should meet with a hearty response from the printing trade as well as all those allied with it:

I hope to have the honor of presiding at the seventy-sixth anniversary festival of the Printers' Pension, Almshouse and Orphan Asylum Corporation, which will be held at the Hotel Metropole, London, on Wednesday, June 10.

An important feature of this institution, which was founded in 1827 and was granted a royal charter in 1855, is that those who desire to become recipients of its benefits must themselves have been contributors to a nominal extent to the pension funds.

It may probably be known to your readers that Benjamin Franklin worked as a compositor and pressman in England in the years 1725-'26. The actual handpress at which he worked was carefully preserved in England until 1841, despite many offers by United States citizens to purchase it. In that year the press was handed over to an American visitor in England, with a free hand to present it to the American nation, as he might think best. At the same time the donors expressed a hope, which was cordially reciprocated, that some form of subscription might be organized in the States for the foundation of a special Benjamin Franklin Pension to be devoted to the less fortunate members of the printing trade in England, to which any citizen of the United States of America would naturally have first nomination.

The recipient of the press exhibited it in Liverpool before it was shipped, and about £300 out of £750, required to found a pension of 10 shillings a week, was subscribed in England to the Franklin Pension. The press was handed over to the United States Patent Office in 1842, and in 1883 was transferred to the National Museum in Washington. There, however, the matter seems to have dropped.

So, as president of the anniversary festival for this year, I venture to take the opportunity of a short visit to the States to bring these facts before your readers, in the hopes that I may receive some contributions, however small, which will be duly acknowledged at the dinner, to augment the Franklin Pension, and make it more worthy of the great name which it bears. I am, yours faithfully,

W. HUGH SPOTTISWOODE,
King's Printer.

THE ERRORS OF BOOKSELLERS.

A CORRESPONDENT of the London Publishers' Circular calls the attention of Mr. John Skalkeld, the dealer in old books who, in the Publishers' Circular, recently told some interesting stories of the up and downs of old books,) to the fact that less than three years ago he saw in one of his periodical catalogues a little book marked at half-a-crown, the identical price Mr. Skalkeld paid for a "dumpy quarto" that he sold directly, in the next street, for £20—a transaction over which he was inclined to crow. What price this particular book offered by Mr. Skalkeld at half-a-crown would fetch now or in a year or two it would be difficult to estimate; but it would be at a considerable advance over the price set by Mr. Skalkeld, for the reason that the other few existing copies are all in public and college libraries and will never be for sale. The little book was "Nova Solyma," the newly-discovered romance by Milton, recently published in this country by Charles Scribner's Sons.

THE BOOKSELLERS' LEAGUE EIGHTH ANNUAL MEETING.

THE March meeting and annual election of The Booksellers' League, held on Wednesday evening, the 11th, at the Aldine rooms, was not as largely attended as usual, presumably because it had been announced merely as a business meeting, no mention having been made of expected speakers. Those who stayed away, however, lost the rare opportunity of listening on the same occasion to the intrepid young traveller, Harry De Windt, and to the veteran "Poet of the Sierras," Joaquin Miller. Dr. L. T. Chamberlain was also present as a guest, but did not speak.

When every one present had done his full duty by the excellent dinner, President John A. Holden called the meeting to order to listen to the annual report of the Board of Trustees read by the Secretary, Francis Gilman.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF MANAGERS.

To the members of The Booksellers' League.

GENTLEMEN: Your President and Board of Managers take pleasure in presenting you their annual report, as follows:

The Booksellers' League, at the end of its eighth year, is in a very prosperous condition, the membership having increased during the year, the latest count being 138. The Board of Managers have held frequent meetings, at which the average attendance has been eleven.

Seven dinners have been given, including the annual dinner, and the interest in these dinners is shown by the large attendance, averaging fifty. The speaking has been of a more than usually high character and was intensely interesting. The names of the speakers in part are as follows:

At the March dinner, in 1902, which was a tribute to Mr. James S. Baker, we heard from Messrs. George Haven Putnam, Simon Brentano, Nelson Taylor, J. H. Dingman, and A. Growoll.

At the April dinner Mr. Everett T. Tomlinson, author of several well-known books for young people, spoke on the subject of "Reading for Young People;" Mr. James Barnes, assistant editor of Harper's Weekly, told a number of interesting stories, and Dr. I. K. Funk spoke on the subject of the "Higher Order of Books."

At the May dinner Mr. Ernest Thompson-Seton entertained the members with a talk on nature books; Mr. J. Hamblen Sears spoke, in a humorous vein, upon "Angling for Authors," and Mr. Louis Burgess gave several excellent recitations of sketches in negro dialect.

In October we had an interesting talk from Mr. Francis H. Nichols on "Hidden Shensi," and Mr. Robert P. Woodward described his travels on a donkey's hurricane deck, from New York to San Francisco.

At the November dinner the Rev. Thomas Dixon spoke of "The Development of the Anglo-Saxon Race and its Destiny;" Dr. Thomas Slicer referred to "The Foibles and Follies of the Book-buyer." Dr. Canfield talked of "The Mission, Duties and Responsibilities of the Bookseller," and I. W. Mackay performed feats of ventriloquism.

We will not soon forget our enjoyable evening in January of this year with Messrs. Charles G. D. Roberts, Henry Harland, W. H. Drummond and Homer Davenport, whose stories were very entertaining.

At our annual banquet, held February 11 last, Professor John Dyneley Prince, Will Carleton and the Rev. Minot J. Savage delivered interesting addresses, and the Plectra Mandolin Club kindly furnished the musical entertainment.

The Employment Bureau, during the past year, has maintained its reputation for assisting our members, and also some outsiders, in finding suitable positions, as the following report from Mr. C. E. Bonnell, the manager of the Bureau, will show:

TO MARCH 3, 1903.

Some have paid their dues, others have not. It might be well to exact a fee upon registering a name, as the applicant frequently asks if there is anything to pay. A nominal entrance fee of twenty-five cents might be well to consider, with a further payment of from fifty cents to $1, according to the position, to be paid, say, within a week, after the situation is obtained.

C. E. BONNELL.

The Treasurer's report will show that the money received has been well spent—the greater part in feeding the inner man—and that there is a sufficient balance on hand to carry us along.

JAMES B. BRIGHAM, Treasurer.
A. GROWOLL,
JOHN BRIGGS,
JAMES MACDONALD
S. L. WALKER, Finance Committee.

It has been decided to attempt during the coming year the introduction of a new feature, namely, a "Roll Call" at each meeting, the idea being that some topic of interest to the members be selected, and that in answering to his name each member may speak on the subject briefly, giving his ideas and views. If unable to attend, and he so wishes, he may be represented by a written note. By this means it is hoped to further intensify the interest in our business and to get points that may be mutually helpful in conducting it.

If every member of the Booksellers' League, during the coming year, would induce one of his friends to join, we need have no fear for our future, and next year might be the banner year of the League, so far as membership is concerned.

The election of officers for 1903 then took place, resulting in the unanimous choice of Cass Richardson, of E. P. Dutton & Co., as President, and the following as members of the Board of Trustees: J. B. Brigham, John Briggs, J. A. Holden, F. D. Lacey, W. H. Parker and Samuel Reis. The President is ex-officio a member of the Board. At the request of President Richardson, retiring President Holden presided during the evening.

Harry De Windt then described his recent journey by land from Paris to New York to ascertain the feasibility of a railroad over that route, and by means of a stereopticon showed many actual scenes from this thrilling trip.

De Windt left Paris on December 19, 1901, his companions being George Harding and the Vicomte de Clinchamp, and travelled by rail via Berlin and Moscow to Irkutsk, thence 2000 miles by horse sledge to Yakutsk, thence 2000 miles by reindeer sledge to Sredni-Kolymsk, thence 2000 miles to Behring Strait, thence via Cape Nome and San Francisco to New York, which he reached on August 25, 1902, having covered 18,484 miles in a little over eight months.

Mr. De Windt exhibited several views showing the wonderful development in six years of Cape Nome, where he attended an evening dress ball, and of the wonderful White Pass Railroad. He thought a railroad from Paris to New York a probability of the future. The expense, however, would be enormous, and for many years to come it would not pay. A bridge across Behring Strait he considers an engineering impossibility.

Joaquin Miller expressed his great admiration of Mr. De Windt's narrative; he liked the "room" of it. He thought the New Yorker needed more room in his life. "We are apt to think New York is all the world," he said. "But out West is the place! where we have the Pacific—the American—Ocean, the most unpacific of oceans, but oh, the room and the majesty of it all!"

He went on to say that we should learn to love the beautiful—as do the Japanese, for instance. He showed a Japanese book printed on silk paper and weighing an ounce or two, and compared it with an ordinary twelvemo, which would weigh perhaps two pounds. "I believe I have published a book," he said, "but I will never publish one in a coffin like that!"—pointing to the American-made book. "I never published a book with pictures in it; if I cannot make a picture of the book itself I will not write it. Put it in black and white and trust your reader to have some intelligence." In short, Mr. Miller commended to the League the Japanese book in his hand as a model of what a book should be. "The man who first gets the fine silken paper—" Here he declared that he, too, was now obliged, like the New Yorker, to run and catch trains, and cut short his remarks.

Votes of thanks were extended to both speakers, and the meeting broke up with the universal feeling that the evening had been one of exceptional interest.

A NEW METHOD OF MARKETING BOOKS.

OUR German friends are not quite so slow as they are usually supposed to be; at any rate there are some sharp ones in the book-trade, as the following will show. It certainly is a unique way of marketing books.

A bookseller in Göttingen received a call from a person representing himself to be a school teacher named Müller of a neighboring village. He looked at some books and finally ordered a work on decorative art which he claimed was published by Fr. Salis in Berlin. The Göttingen bookseller ordered the book, for which he was obliged to pay 6 marks C. O. D. Upon notifying Mr. Müller the bookseller received word that no such person could be found. On examining the book received from Berlin it was found to contain ten cheap lithographs.

The same swindle is reported from at least three other cities, and very likely the alleged Mr. Müller did not confine his operations to these only. In every case the book that was received contained worthless lithographs or color prints.

The amusing part of the story is that the booktrade is hot in chase after Müller. It would seem to us that the firm who did business under the aliases of Fr. Salis, F. Klinge & Salis, etc., and who gathered in the marks and pfennig, could be run to cover more easily.

DR. GILMAN HEAD OF THE BIBLE SOCIETY.

DR. DANIEL C. GILMAN, president of the Carnegie Institution, was on March 5 elected president of the American Bible Society, at a meeting of the board of managers of that institution, held in the Bible House, Fourth Avenue and East Eighth and Ninth Streets, New York. Since the death of ex-Judge Enoch L. Fancher, on February 9, 1900, the society has had no president. About a year ago John W. Foster, ex-Secretary of State, was elected, but declined to serve on account of his business affairs. The Rev. Dr. Edward W. Gilman, a brother of the new president, was a corresponding secretary of the society for over thirty years before his death two years ago. It is said by the friends of Dr. Gilman here that he will accept his election.

ENGLISH "AS SHE IS SPOKE" IN A SPANISH BOOKSTORE.

OBITUARY NOTES.

BERNARDO K. KNIGHT, for many years with the J. B. Lippincott Company, and later in charge of the book order department of Strawbridge & Clothier, died last week at the Pennsylvania Hospital. Mr. Knight's acquaintance in trade circles was very extensive.

NORMAN ARGO, said to have been the original "Uncle Tom," died on the 9th inst. at Paint Lick, Ky. He was said to be 111 years old. Argo was born a slave and belonged to General Samuel Kennedy, a wealthy planter of Garrard County and a former member of the Kentucky Legislature. Mrs. Stowe obtained most of the material for "Uncle Tom's Cabin" from the Kennedy plantation.

WILLIAM F. RIGBY, who for ten years was associated with his brother, George H. Rigby, the dealer in old and rare books, at 1113 Arch Street, Philadelphia, died in that city March 8, after an illness of fifteen days. Mr. Rigby was quite a young man, having been born in 1875, but he had remarkable aptitude and was well grounded in the knowledge of books, and passionately devoted to his business, which in time would have enabled him to hold a place in the front rank of his profession.

PROFESSOR GASTON BRUNO PAULIN PARIS, of the College de France, the celebrated French archivist and paleographist, died in Paris on the 6th inst. Professor Paris was born at Avenay, Marne, August 9, 1839. Among other interesting and curious works he published "Etude sur le rôle de l'accent latin dans la langue française," 1862; "De pseudo-Turpino," 1865; "Histoire poétique de Charlemagne," 1866; "La Petite Poucet et la Grande Ourse," 1879; "La Poésie du moyen âge," "Leçons et lectures," 1888; second edition 1889; "La Littérature française du moyen âge," 1888. He founded, together with Paul Meyer, the Revue Critique, 1866; the Romania, 1872, and the Revue Historique.

ANDREW CARPENTER WHEELER, ("Nym Crinkle") newspaper writer, author and critic, died at Monsey, Rockland County, on March 10. Mr. Wheeler was born at 19 John Street, New York, June 4, 1835. He began his newspaper career as a reporter for the New York Times when Henry J. Raymond was editor. In the late fifties he went to Kansas and shortly before the war to Milwaukee, where he edited the Sentinel, leaving that paper to go through the war as correspondent. Returning to New York he wrote for the New York Leader over the name "Trinculo." His dramatic criticism, though often swayed by prejudice, attracted wide attention, and prompted Manton Marble to induce him to join the staff of the Sunday World, for which he wrote under the pseudonym of "Nym Crinkle." He was also connected with the New York Sun, and, later, with the Evening Post, for which he wrote under the pen name of "J. P. M." He wrote a comedy entitled "The Twins," one of the many adaptations of "A Tale of Two Cities," which was produced at Wallack's. He was the author of "The Chronicles of Milwaukee," "Easter in a Hospital Bed," "The Primrose Path of Dalliance" and "The Toltec Cup." He was also the author of "Tangled up in Beulah Land," recently published as by "J. P. M." and he wrote besides this, in the last year of his life, three other books—"A Journey to Nature," "The Making of a Country Home" and the "Conquering of Kate"—all of which have been published serially over those initials. It is interesting to note in this connection that Messrs. Doubleday, Page & Co., who will publish within the month "J. P. M.'s" "The Conquering of Kate," knew the author only by the name of J. P. Mowbray. "Tangled Up in Beulah Land" is now being dramatized. He had a share in writing "The Still Alarm," "Blue Jeans," and "The Great Diamond Robbery." He wrote the words for several songs and was himself an accomplished musician. He had studied law, medicine and theology, and once went to Boston and delivered a lecture, which he called "Skylarks and Daisies," in reply to Ingersoll's attacks on Christianity. He amused himself by painting and collecting books and pictures.

NOTES ON AUTHORS.

ARTHUR UPSON, author of "Octaves in an Oxford Garden," just published by Edmund D. Brooks, Minneapolis, wrote the thirty octaves of which the book consists "during residence at Oxford two years ago. He is also the author of a collection of lyrics called "Westwind Songs," which had the unusual compliment of being issued with an introduction by Carmen Sylva, the Queen of Roumania.

IT will probably be a surprise to many to be told that Joseph Conrad, the author of "Youth," the three tales of the world's waterways, that McClure, Phillips & Co. have just brought out, is not writing in his native tongue when he writes in English. Mr. Conrad's power over English has been frequently referred to as "wizardry." He seems to have all the most incisive and suggestive words of the English language at his beck and call, and his masterful descriptions have a vividness and strength that few, if any, English born writers can match. Mr. Conrad is no Englishman but a Pole, and was born in a southern province of Poland. His father was a noted critic and poet, who edited a patriotic review at Warsaw. Conrad received his education at a school in Cracow, or at least such a beginning at an education as his natural roving spirit would let him make. He very early put himself in the path of adventures, and was only a slip of a chap, when he took to the sea.

COMMUNICATIONS.

WANTED—WORKS ON SANITARY SCIENCE,
STATISTICS, ETC.

FEBRUARY 24, 1903

THE undersigned would be pleased to receive information of works on sanitary science and engineering, more particularly treatises dealing with statistics, life tables, etc.

A. E. MASCORT, M.D.
P. O. Box 91, Havana, Cuba.

JOURNALISTIC NOTES.

The Library will hereafter be published also in this country, with the imprint of the Scott-Thaw Company, New York.

THE Frankfurter Journal, one of the oldest newspapers in Germany, has suspended publication. It is supposed to have been founded in 1615 in Frankfort-on-the-Main.

A Century subscriber recently wrote to the publishers inquiring what the charge would be for a life subscription to The Century for a man thirty-three years of age. The question was submitted to one of the large life insurance companies, who report that by the American experience table of mortality, assuming money to earn three per cent. annual interest, a man thirty-three years of age should pay $81.64 for a life subscription to The Century. The publishers do not think that it is worth while to open a department for life subscriptions, but it is interesting to know that a man of thirty-three can look forward to the probable enjoyment of over eighty dollars' worth of future Century Magazines.

BIBLIOGRAPHIC NOTES.

GEORGE H. RICHMOND, 32 West Thirty-third Street, New York, has secured the entire edition of a privately printed catalogue of the English portion of the library of Robert Hoe, of New York, consisting of the works of British authors prior to the year seventeen hundred. Beginning with Caxton, all the early English printers, and nearly all the great masterpieces of English literature will be represented. There will be one hundred or more carefully executed facsimiles accompanying the text. The work will probably be complete in five twelvemo volumes (certainly not more than six,) of about four hundred pages each, issued at intervals of three months. The first volume is now ready. The price to first subscribers is $20 a volume. The edition is strictly limited to 100 copies.

DODD, MEAD & CO. will publish shortly "A Bibliography of the Separate and Collected Works of Philip Freneau," prepared by Victor Hugo Paltzits, assistant librarian in the New York Public Library, (Lenox Library Building.) Mr. Paltzits, whose work has always been marked by scholarly accuracy, has made what will undoubtedly be the authoritative bibliography of Freneau. In the preparation of this bibliography he has been able to make analytical collations of all the various editions of Freneau's works from a personal examination in many libraries. He records also several smaller pieces which have not, so far as known, survived the ravages of time. Seventeen facsimiles of the chief items mentioned are given, and there is a full index to the work. The edition will be limited to 115 copies on Van Gelder paper.

THE Börsenverein der deutschen Buchhändler zu Leipzig has published the second volume of the catalogue of its library, supplementing the first volume which was brought out in 1885. Though it contains many works printed long before 1885, the present work, to a considerable extent, is a reasonably complete—in many directions even a most comprehensive—bibliography of books, pamphlets, manuscript material, etc., on the subject of printing, bookbinding, paper making, type founding, etc., in fact, of all the materials and trades employed in the manufacture of books; bookselling, practically and historically considered; the legal aspects of bookselling, including copyright; bibliophilism and bibliomania; bibliography and library economy. The work of compiling this excellent catalogue was begun by F. Hermann Meyer, and continued until his death in November, 1892, since which time the present librarian, Konrad Burger, the well-known bibliographer, has had charge of the work. The contents of the catalogue of 1266 octavo pages are made easily accessible by a comprehensive index of 146 double column octavo pages.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

A. C. BRIGHTMAN, formerly with the Burrows Brothers Company, has taken a position with Frederic Loeser of Brooklyn.

It is estimated that Mrs. Humphry Ward will receive over $150,000 as her share of the profits on the rights to "Lady Rose's Daughter."

THE collection of Valentine A. Blacque was privately sold to Henry W. Poor, on the 4th inst. The collection consisted of only one hundred books, but nearly every one was a gem.

RICHARD G. BADGER, Boston, announces Julius Wolf's metrical romance of "Tannhäuser," translated by Charles G. Kendall; also, "Vita," a drama, by Grace Denio Litchfield.

BRENTANO'S have just brought out Mrs. Dorothea Gerard's latest novel, "The Eternal Woman." The story is of exceptional interest, dealing in part with the "New Woman" question.

FUNK & WAGNALLS COMPANY will publish in April a book entitled "How Paris Amuses Itself," by F. Berkeley Smith, author of "The Real Latin Quarter," that attracted considerable attention last year.

FRANKLIN A. HENDERSON, for fourteen years connected with the Pilgrim Press, of Boston, has been appointed manager of the New England Branch of the American Tract Society, at 54 Bromfield Street, Boston.

G. P. PUTNAM'S SONS, the original publishers of Cooper's works, are preparing a new edition. It will be comprised in sixteen volumes, half the number of the Prairie and Mohawk editions. The name of this new edition will be the Pathfinder.

HOUGHTON, MIFFLIN & Co. will publish early next month a collection of short stories by Bret Harte, which have been found since his death by his literary executors. There are seven stories, the one that will give the book its title being called "Trent's Trust."

CASSELL & COMPANY have in preparation a book of impressions of America, by John Foster who paid a visit to this country last fall with the purpose of studying in detail the main things that account for American industrial progress. The book will be entitled "America at Work."

THE NEW AMSTERDAM BOOK COMPANY will publish on the 25th inst. "The Trail of the Grand Seigneur," by Olin L. Lyman, a story of the northern counties of New York State and the opposite shore of Lake Erie in Canada. The volume will have seven colored plates by J. Steeple Davis and Clare Angell.

ALBERT BRANDT, Trenton, N. J., has just brought out a work entitled "The Gate Beautiful, being the Principles and Methods in Vital Art Education," by John Ward Stimson, formerly director of art education at the New York Metropolitan Museum of Art, etc. The work is a quarto and is sumptuously illustrated.

ELLEN M. STAPLES, 1024 Hudson Street, Hoboken, N. J., will shortly publish her account of the club-women's trip to the General Federation of Women's Clubs at Los Angeles in May, 1902, entitled "A Twentieth Century Pilgrim's Progress." The volume will have illustrations of places visited en route and a portrait of Mrs. Denison, President of the G. F. W. C.

THE ARTHUR H. CLARK COMPANY, Cleveland, have nearly ready, in The Historic Highways of America series, "Braddock's Road," to be followed by "The Old Glade Road" and "Boone's Wilderness Road;" also, the first of the compendious work on "The Philippine Islands, 1493-1803," edited by E. H. Blair and J. A. Robertson, with an introduction by Prof. E. G. Bourne.

THE LOTHROP PUBLISHING COMPANY will issue early in April, Irving Bacheller's new novel, "Darrel of the Blessed Isles." This book the publishers believe will be recognized as Mr. Bacheller's strongest work in fiction, having a vital motive, strength of plot and interest of character, and being written with all the idyllic charm which is his when he tells of the North country before the war.

E. P. DUTTON & COMPANY have just published the new book on "Italy and the Italians," by Edward Hutton, whose "Studies in the Lives of the Saints" has already received favorable comment. Mr. Hutton combines a deep love for Italy with familiarity with her ways and her history. Thus the book begins with the starting on foot for Italy and the journey through France and over the mountains.

THE SAALFIELD PUBLISHING COMPANY, Akron, O., has in preparation a new novel by Dr. James Bell Naylor, author of "Ralph Marlowe." It is a frontier story, with all the lights and shadows of the early settlements in the Northwest Territory, and has to do with Anthony Wayne's famous expedition against the redmen, as the title, "Under Mad Anthony's Banner," indicates. It will be illustrated by C. M. Coolidge.

HARDY, PRATT & Co., of Boston, will publish at once a popular edition of "The Letters of Mlle. Julie de Lespinasse," with notes upon her life and character by d'Alembert, Marmontel and de Guibert, and an introduction by C. A. Sainte Beuve, translated by Katherine Prescott Wormeley. This book has an interest just now because it is supposed to have served as a model for Mrs. Ward's latest story, "Lady Rose's Daughter."

HENRY HOLT & Co. will publish shortly "Red-Headed Gill," a story, by Rye Owen, a new author, that is said to be full of stirring incidents, and to hinge on the weird influence of a piece of Indian silk; "Princess of Hanover," by Margaret L. Wood, a drama, of which the London Times says, "it reminds us at every turn of some of the best of the Elizabeth dramatists;" also, a new edition of "The Lightning Conductor," which will have a new final chapter.

HARPER & BROTHERS have in hand a work entitled "New Conceptions of Science," which is designed to give the laymen a chance to keep pace with scientific progress. The author is Carl Snyder, a young American scientist, who stirred up much heated discussion by an article upon the inferiority of the American position in the world of science. Since then he has been much before the public, and always as the exponent of vigorous and somewhat aggressive theories.

CLARKE CONWELL, (The Elston Press,) New Rochelle, N. Y., has in press the third volume in his series of Shakesperean reprints, namely, Laurence Twine's "Patterne of Painefull Adventures," the original of Shakespeare's "Pericles, Prince of Tyre," the first edition of which was probably issued about 1576, although no copy of so early an edition has ever come to light. The present reprint is from an edition edited by Collier in 1844. The edition will be limited to 170 copies.

THERE is an unsupported rumor abroad that the Robert Clarke Company will not resume the business of retailing books, but will devote itself exclusively to publishing law books and works of a historical character. We trust this will not prove true. Not only Cincinnati, but the whole country would suffer a serious loss in the disappearance of that historic old place that was known from Boston to San Diego simply as "Robert Clarke's," and that was equally well known by that name in the British and European capitals.

WE inadvertently allowed the statement to be made in our last week's issue that the original publisher of James L. Ford's "The Literary Shop" had failed. This, as every one in the trade knows, is absolutely without foundation. The firm in question closed out its business, including its publishing interests, and that is how the plates of Mr. Ford's book came into the open market. The head of the concern in question immediately opened up, under his own name, a new business which he has conducted since, and is successfully carrying on at the present time.

CHARLES E. GOOD SPEED, 5 Park Street, Boston, Mass., will publish this spring F. B. Sanborn's recollections of Emerson, together with his account of Emerson's individuality viewed after a long and intimate acquaintance. The book will be entitled "The Personality of Emerson," and will contain as illustrations, an etching by Sidney L. Smith, from the (standing) portrait of Emerson painted by David Scott, in Edinburgh, in 1848, and fac-similes of two letters. The edition will be 500 copies on French hand-made paper and 75 copies on Japan paper.

THE FLEMING H. REVELL COMPANY will publish early in April "Lomai of Lenakel, a hero of the New Hebrides," by Frank H. L. Paton, the son of John G. Paton, well-known for his missionary work among the Cannibals of the South Seas. The son is the worthy successor of his father, and the pages of his book record the same daring, adventurous and intrepid spirit in his missionary work. The book has been edited by the Rev. Dr. James Paton, brother of the father and uncle of the son, whose editing of his brother's autobiography helped to make that work a landmark in the literature of Christian missions.

G. W. DILLINGHAM COMPANY will publish March 17 "His Friend the Enemy," a tale of the Northwest, by William Wallace Cook. They will publish at once a third edition of "The Room with the Little Door," by Roland B. Molineux; a third edition of "A Coin of Edward VII.," by Fergus Hume; also, a second edition of 25,000 copies "Back to the Woods," by the author of "John Henry," etc. They will publish in May "Because of Power," by Ella Stryker Mapes, a handsome series of 50-cent paper covered popular works of fiction, to be issued monthly during the spring and summer.

FRANCIS P. HARPER, New York, will publish early in April a new work by Capt. Hiram Martin Chittenden, the author of the "American Fur Trade of the Far West." It is entitled "History of Early Steamboat Navigation on the Missouri River: life and adventures of Joseph La Barge, pioneer navigator and Indian trader, for fifty years identified with the commerce of the Missouri valley." The set will be illustrated with portraits and views from old photographs and will be in two octavo volumes. It forms No. 4 of the American Explorers Series. A second large edition of the "American Fur Trade of the Far West" has just been printed.

R. H. RUSSELL announces a new book by George Ade, entitled "People You Know," which contains, in the form of short stories, twenty-six studies of American character; "Marjorie," a romantic novel by Justin Huntly McCarthy, author of "If I Were King," etc., with a frontispiece in colors by C. Allan Gilbert; "Perverted Proverbs," by "Col. D. Streamer," the author of "Ruthless Rhymes for Heartless Homes," etc.; "The Black Lion Inn," a new book by Alfred Henry Lewis the historian of "Wolfville;" also a portfolio of "Pierce's American Beauties," reproductions, in black and white photogravures, of a number of studies of the types of the American girl.

THE BAKER & TAYLOR COMPANY have just ready a history of American home missionary work, entitled "Leavening the Nation," by the Rev. Dr. J. B. Clark, secretary of the Congregational Home Missionary Society, who has had the assistance of the secretaries of the Boards of other denominations; "My Woodland Intimates," life histories of the little animals of the woods, by Effie Bignell, author of "Mr. Chupes and Miss Jenny;" also the first two volumes of The Story of the Churches series—"The Baptists," by Dr. Henry C. Vedder of Crozier Theological Seminary, and "The Presbyterians," by Dr. Charles Lemuel Thompson, secretary of the Board of Home Missions of the Presbyterian Church.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS will bring out this spring a book entitled "Feathered Game," a handbook for sportsmen, by Dwight W. Huntington, which besides describing all the game birds in this country, will tell where they may be shot, and give information about guns, dogs, game clubs, preserves, etc., with illustrations and photographs of game birds. The letters of Mme. Waddington, which have lately been appearing in Scribner's Magazine, will be published about the middle of spring in an illustrated volume entitled "Letters of a Diplomat's Wife," by Mary King Waddington. The parts which have already appeared, although suggestive of the whole, form only one-quarter of the entire material, and by no means its most interesting episodes.

T. FISHER UNWIN, London, has just issued a little book entitled "A Woman's Wanderings and Trials during the Anglo-Boer War," by Mrs. De La Rey, the wife of the famous Boer general. Mrs. De La Rey's story is a remarkable one. She must have risked and escaped capture as often as her countryman, De Wet, and her movements were so swift and so cunning that she frequently conversed with her husband and with a British general on one and the same day. She had a homely wit and a way of "getting round" the English officers, which is often amusing. There are some interesting descriptions of her interviews with Lord Methuen both before her farm was destroyed by his orders and after he was captured by her husband. Written without literary pretensions, yet full at times of simple eloquence, this little book will be found to be a human document of the most moving character.

THE fact that the Emperor of Germany has upheld the cause of orthodox theology against the opinions expressed by Professor F. Delitzsch, of Berlin, has caused surprise among many in this country, to whom the latter name has stood for all that was sound as well as scholarly in biblical criticism. The mystification arises from the confusion of Dr. Franz Delitzsch, the father, with Dr. Friedrich Delitzsch, the son. It is the latter with whom the emperor is in theological controversy, although in archaeological agreement. Delitzsch, the son, will shortly introduce himself to the American public by the series of lectures upon his recent Babylonian investigations, to which, when delivered in Berlin, the emperor lent his presence and approval, dissenting afterward from certain theological conclusions of the lecturer. Dr. Franz Delitzsch, the father, has long been known in this country through translations of his biblical commentaries, notably those upon the "Prophecies of Isaiah" and the "Book of Psalms," published by Funk & Wagnalls Company.

THE MACMILLAN COMPANY have just published, by arrangement with Swan Sonnenschein & Co., "A Descriptive Guide to the Best Fiction, British and American," including translations from foreign languages, and containing about 4500 references, with exhaustive indexes and historical index, prepared by Ernest A. Baker, editor of "Half-forgotten Books." They have also brought out "Art in the Nineteenth Century," by Dr. Charles Waldstein, the basis of which is the author's lecture on the achievement of art in the nineteenth century, delivered at the University of Cambridge in August, 1902. They have in preparation a play by Percy Mackaye, entitled "The Canterbury Pilgrims," which E. H. Sothern has accepted for production. The work is a comedy in verse, with a love affair between Chaucer and the Prioress for its chief motif. They also announce a story entitled "Ronald Carnaquay, a Commercial Clergyman," by Bradley Gilman, one of the chief interests of which lies in the development of the character of the rector, who has been a commercial traveller, and who goes into the church for what he can get out of it; also, "The Moral System of Shakespeare," by Richard G. Moulton, a popular illustration of fiction as the experimental side of philosophy.

DODD, MEAD & CO. have just ready the American edition of the Duke of Abruzzi's account of his polar expedition entitled "On the Polar Star in the Arctic Sea," in two octavo volumes, with sixteen photogravures and about three hundred half-tone reproductions of photographs taken by the author; "The Gold Wolf," by Max Pemberton, a story of the curse that inherited wealth brings to one man; "Handicapped Among the Free," by Emma Rayner, author of "Free to Serve," etc., in which the author describes the disadvantages under which a Southern negro must make his way among the late masters and in company with his fellow freedmen; also, "The Story of an East-Side Family," by Lillian W. Betts, author of "The Leaven in a Great City," who relates the evolution of an east-side family of New York, which by clever management, industry and economy goes up the social ladder and becomes a power among its fellow men. They have just issued the seventh volume of their "New International Encyclopædia," which carries the work from Ethics to Fulier-Maitland. The subject of Ethics is very fully treated, occupying eleven of the volume's dignified pages. Other subjects treated with reasonable comprehensiveness from the lexicographer's point of view are Ethnology, Etymology, Europe, with four colored maps and a colored plate showing the white races of Europe; Evolution, Exegesis, Explosives, Eye, Factories, Feudalism, Finance, Fire Insurance, Fisheries, Flags, with two colored plates; Florida, with map; Flour, with two plates; Flowers, Food, Fortifications, France, with maps; Friends, and French literature. Nor are the numerous other items slighted; indeed, as the work grows in bulk it also grows in fulness of treatment. The illustrations of the present volume consist of eight colored plates, ten colored maps, twenty-three full-page plates, and numerous illustrations in the text.

The Leopard's Spots

By THOMAS DIXON, Jr.

Is selling faster than ever.

The day we got in the last printing, making a hundred thousand, we had to order another five.

As we prophesied, the second hundred thousand is starting out strong.

There ought to be as many readers for the "only offset ever written to 'Uncle Tom's Cabin'" as there were for that remarkable book itself.

A New Book of New England Ghost Stories

By MARY E. WILKINS

The Wind in The Rose-Bush

Mrs. Freeman has won success in many literary fields, but this volume represents still a new achievement: a series of New England ghost stories whose reality and "creepiness" are remarkable. It is an absorbing book.

(Illustrated by PETER NEWELL. $1.50)

House Building and Furnishing

Being a combined new edition of "Model Houses for Little Money," by WILLIAM L. PRICE, and "Inside of 100 Homes," by W. M. JOHNSON.

These little volumes met with much success when published separately. Combined they form a very suggestive study of homemaking inside and out for those who are limited in expenditure. The building plans range in price from $1,000 to $4,500, and the many illustrations are full of ideas for those who are about to build.

(Size, 5x7; Pages, 400; Binding, cloth; Illustrations, 200. $1.00)

A Literary Sensation!

THE DISCOVERY THAT
Mlle. Julie de Lespinasse
 IS THE ORIGINAL OF
Lady Rose's Daughter

Has created an unprecedented sensation in the literary world. The facts have been verified by comparison, some of which are as follows:

Julie de Lespinasse

1. The natural daughter of a woman of rank, the Comtesse d'Albon.
2. At her mother's death she was left with no resources save those of her own character and a pittance of 100 crowns a year.
3. She was suffering humiliating treatment as a quasi-governess when discovered by Mme. du Deffand, who engaged her as companion on the promise that she would make no claim on her mother's family.
4. Mme. du Deffand, one of the brilliant women of her time, is now nearly blind, imperious, and tyrannical.

Julie Le Breton

1. The natural daughter of a woman of rank, Lady Rose.
2. At her mother's death she is left with no resources save those of her own character and a pittance of £100 a year.
3. She is serving as a quasi-holiday governess when discovered by Lady Henry, who engages her as a companion on the promise that she will make no claim on her mother's family.
4. Lady Henry, one of the brilliant women of her time, is now nearly blind, imperious, and tyrannical.

THE FOURTH AND POPULAR EDITION OF

The Letters of Mlle. Julie de Lespinasse

With notes upon her life and character by D'Alembert, Marmontel, and de Guibert, and an Introduction by C.-A. Sainte-Beuve, translated by Katharine Prescott Wormeley, will be ready shortly at all book-stores. One volume. 12mo. Portrait. Price, $1.25 net. Postage, 10c. additional.

THESE letters will stand forever among the most memorable monuments of passion, to which they have given, as Sainte-Beuve says, an "immortal testimony." Her letters fairly burn the pages upon which they are written, and many noted people are brought into prominence.

Dying at a comparatively early age of a broken heart, she left behind her, as a legacy to the world, letters that rival those left by Héloïse, or even the poetry of Sappho, being immortal pen pictures of passion. The record of her social triumphs hardly exceeds the romance of her own life. When these letters appeared, there was great emotion in society, several of the friends of Mlle. de Lespinasse being still alive at that date. They deplored the indiscreet publication; they blamed the conduct of the editors, who thus dishonored, they said, the memory of a woman until then respected, and betrayed her secret to all, without the right to do so. Nevertheless, they eagerly enjoyed the reading of the letters, which far surpassed in interest the most ardent romances.

Every reader of "Lady Rose's Daughter" should read the "Letters of Mlle. Julie de Lespinasse"

OF THE
GRAND SEIGNEUR

By OLIN L. LYMAN

With seven superb full-page colored illustrations

by J. Steeple Davis and Clare Angell. & & &

THE Publishers are confident that this novel will be not only one of the most successful books of the year, but will also take place in the front rank among the acknowledged American masterworks of fiction. The scenes of the novel are laid in the northern counties of New York State and the opposite shore of Lake Erie, in Canada. The author lives in Watertown, and it was while wandering through the woods and thinking of the strange and dramatic sights that the old trees had witnessed, that the plot of the novel suggested itself to him. He has been three years gathering the material. Many of the incidents described are founded on fact. The manuscript was the most interesting that the publishers ever had the pleasure of reading. It is a charming tale, thoroughly healthy and of rare entertainment.

The Annual American Catalogue CUMULATED 1900-1902

THE ANNUAL AMERICAN CATALOGUE, Cumulated, 1900-1902, is now in preparation, and will include in one alphabet the short-title lists of the books of 1900, 1901 and 1902, giving information of the books recorded by author, title, subject and series. This cumulation is to continue annually until a five-yearly volume of "The American Catalogue" in its new shape is reached. This form of catalogue has been generally accepted as a desirable, practical working tool for the trade, supplementing as it will do, from year to year, the last issue of the five-yearly "American Catalogue," without the need of consulting several alphabets in several volumes.

A Word to the Bookseller

NOTE.—It isn't our business to teach you your business.

But we may be able to give you some pointers on selling our books. From time to time we shall make an attempt at it, on this page.

IT HAS always been a theory of ours that masterly style will sell a book; that there are enough readers keenly appreciative of the highest art of fiction to give success on this ground alone. (Reference—"The House With the Green Shutters.") For this reason—and others—we look for a large sale of Youth, Joseph Conrad's new book, which has set the British critics agasp with admiration.

But there is something more than style to "Youth." The three stories are tremendous narratives, full of the magic of adventure, and power and mystery, the qualities that have the universal appeal. It is already in a second edition. $1.50

Every college graduate, everyone who has a son or a relative or a friend in college, will want to read The Chameleon, by James Weber Linn. It is, we believe, the first novel to show the college in its relations to the outer world. Murdoch, the picklemaker, who endows Colfax University with $10,000,000 and thereby assumes the right to run the institution, is a character new to fiction, though familiar enough in real life. The "Chameleon" himself, type of the egoist and poseur, is an extraordinary study. The novel is keenly alive by virtue of the vitality of its characters. Second edition. $1.50
